VOCABULARY PREVIEW

You may want to introduce these words before beginning the chapter, or you may choose to wait until they first occur in a specific lesson. If you choose to introduce them at this point, here are some suggestions:

1. Have students look at the illustrations on text page 51 and identify the words they already know.

2. Present the vocabulary. Say each word and have the class repeat it chorally and individually. Check students’ understanding and pronunciation of the words.

3. Practice the vocabulary as a class, in pairs, or in small groups. Have students cover the word list and look at the pictures. Practice the words in the following ways:
   • Say a word and have students tell the number of the illustration.
   • Give the number of an illustration and have students say the word.
Text Pages 52-53: How Long?

FOCUS

- Present Perfect Tense: Questions with How Long Expressions with For and Since

CLOSE UP

Time expressions with for and since are commonly used with the present perfect tense to describe something that began in the past and continues in the present.

RULE: For is used with expressions describing a period of time.
EXAMPLES: We've known each other for three years.
            She's had the measles for five days.

RULE: Since is used with expressions referring to a definite point in time.
EXAMPLES: I've been sick since last Friday.
            They've been married since 1985.

INTRODUCING THE MODELS

There are two model conversations. Introduce and practice each separately. For each model:
1. Have students look at the model illustration.
2. Set the scene:
   1st model: “A salesperson in a jewelry store is talking to a couple who are looking for a wedding ring.”
   2nd model: “One friend is visiting another friend who is sick.”
3. Present the model.
4. Full-Class Repetition.

Pronunciation Note

The pronunciation focus of Chapter 5 is Reduced have & has (text page 64). You may wish to model this pronunciation at this point (How long have you been sick? How long have you known each other?) and encourage students to incorporate it into their language practice.

5. Ask students if they have any questions. Check understanding of the word known in the 1st model.
7. Choral Conversation.
8. Call on one or two pairs of students to present the dialog.
   (For additional practice, do Choral Conversation in small groups or by rows.)
9. Further practice with for and since:
   a. After the 1st model, call on pairs of students to present the model again, using some of the other expressions under for in the box at the top of text page 52. For example:
      a. long time
         A. How long have you known each other?
         B. We've known each other for a long time.
   b. After the 2nd model, same as above, using some of the expressions under since in the box at the top of text page 52. For example:

CHAPTER 5 153
A. How long have you been sick?
B. I’ve been sick since last week.

Examples

1. A. How long have Tom and Janet known each other?
   B. They’ve known each other for two years.
2. A. How long have Mr. and Mrs. Garcia been married?
   B. They’ve been married since 1995.

SIDE BY SIDE EXERCISES

New Vocabulary

- 5. guidance counselor
- 6. satellite space
- 7. own (v)
- 9. interested in
- 10. photography

Culture Note

Exercise 5: A guidance counselor is a person who helps high school students select classes according to their interests and career plans.

WORKBOOK

Pages 52–54

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES

1. For or Since? ★
   a. Write on the board:

   ![For and Since Chart]

   b. Say time expressions such as those below and have students rephrase them with for or since. For example:

   Teacher: a long time
   Student: for a long time
   Teacher: last week
   Student: since last week

   Time expressions:
   - yesterday
   - two hours
   - a few minutes
   - this morning
   - 2000
   - several weeks
   - a long time
   - a quarter to three
   - ten years
   - Wednesday
   - last month
   - three days
   - 1999
   - three and a half weeks
   - eleven o’clock last night

   Variation: Do the activity as a game with competing teams.

2. Rephrase the Sentences! ★★
   a. Have students open their books to text pages 52 and 53.
b. Write the current year on the board. For example:

This year is (2004).

c. Based on what the year is, have students rephrase the sentences about the characters in Exercises 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 11 on text pages 52 and 53. Have students either say or write their new sentences. For example:

Exercise 1: Tom and Janet have known each other for two years.
rephrased: They’ve known each other since (2002).

Exercise 2: Mr. and Mrs. Garcia have been married since 1985.
rephrased: They’ve been married for (19) years.

Exercise 5: Ms. Bennett has been a guidance counselor for 19 years.
rephrased: She’s been a guidance counselor since (1985).

Exercise 6: There have been satellites in space since 1957.
rephrased: There have been satellites in space for (47) years.

Exercise 7: I’ve owned this car for three and a half years.
rephrased: I’ve owned this car since (2001).

Exercise 8: Bob has owned his own house since 1991.
rephrased: Bob has owned his own house for (13) years.

Exercise 11: I’ve been here since 1979.
rephrased: I’ve been here for (25) years.

d. Call on individual students to give their answers.

Variation: Do the activity as a game with competing teams. The team that writes the sentences in the shortest time is the winner.

3. Grammar Chain: How Long Have You Lived Here? ★★

a. Write the following conversation model on the board:

A. How long have you lived here?
B. I’ve lived here since ______.
A. Since ______? You’ve lived here for _______ years!
B. That’s right. How long have YOU lived here?

b. Start the chain game by modeling the conversation with a student. Then have students continue the chain. For example:

Teacher: How long have you lived here?
Teacher: Since (1991)? You’ve lived here for (13) years!
Student A: That’s right. [to Student B:]
How long have YOU lived here?
Student B: I’ve lived here since (2001).

Tell students they can use any date they wish to answer the first question.

4. Get to Know Your Classmates ★★★

a. Write the following on the board:

- study
- live in
- be interested in
- own
- have
- be
- know

b. Divide the class into pairs and have students ask each other questions with how long, using the verbs on the board. For example:

A. How long have you studied English?
B. I’ve studied English for two years.

A. How long have you owned a bicycle?
B. I’ve owned a bicycle since 2000.

c. Have students tell the class about the person they interviewed.
5. Find the Right Person! ★★★
   a. From the prior activity, write down information about the students.
   b. Put the information on a handout in the following form:

   Find someone who . . .
   1. has lived here since 1986.
   2. has studied English for five years.
   3. has owned a bicycle for ten years.
   4. has been interested in jazz since he was a teenager.

c. Have students circulate around the room, asking each other questions to identify the above people.

d. The first student to find all the people, raise his or her hand, and correctly identify the people is the winner of the game.

6. Which One Isn’t True? ★★★
   a. Tell students to write two true statements and one false statement about themselves. For example:
      I’ve owned a car since 2001.
      I’ve been interested in ballet since I was ten.
      I’ve had a bad headache since last night.
   b. Have students take turns reading their statements to the class, and have the class guess which statement isn’t true.
A Very Dedicated Doctor

FOCUS

- Present Perfect Tense
- Since/For

NEW VOCABULARY

black and blue  more than a week
body  neck
dedicated  pain
dizzy  patient (n) early this morning  stiff feel dizzy  swollen for the past 24 hours  take time
high fever  waiting room

READING THE STORY

Optional: Preview the story by having students talk about the story title and/or illustrations. You may choose to introduce new vocabulary beforehand, or have students encounter the new vocabulary within the context of the reading.

1. Have students read silently, or follow along silently as the story is read aloud by you, by one or more students, or on the audio program.

2. Ask students if they have any questions. Check understanding of vocabulary.

3. Check students’ comprehension, using some or all of the following questions:
   - What’s the matter with George?
   - What’s the matter with Martha?
   - What’s the matter with Lenny?
   - What’s the matter with Carol?
   - What’s the matter with Bob?
   - What’s the matter with Bill?
   - What’s the matter with Tommy and Julie?
   - How long has Dr. Fernando been in his office?
   - What don’t his patients know?
   - What’s the matter with him?
   - Why hasn’t he taken time to stay at home and rest?

READING CHECK-UP

Q & A

1. Call on a pair of students to present the model.

2. Have students work in pairs to create new dialogs.

3. Call on pairs to present their new dialogs to the class.

CHOOSE

1. b  5. a
2. b  6. b
3. b  7. a
4. a  8. a

CHOOSE

1. b  4. a
2. a  5. b

READING EXTENSION

1. Miming
   a. Write on cards the symptoms from the reading. For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>dizzy</th>
<th>fever</th>
<th>red spots</th>
<th>headache</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>black and blue</td>
<td>pain in the back</td>
<td>stiff</td>
<td>swollen knee</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>arm</td>
<td>neck</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
b. Have students take turns picking a card from the pile and pantomiming the symptom on the card.

c. The class must guess what symptom the person is miming and which character in the story has that symptom.

Variation: Do the activity as a game with competing teams.

2. Class Discussion: A Good Doctor

a. Write the following on the board:

A good doctor is dedicated.
A good doctor is _____ and _____.
A good doctor doesn’t think about _____.
A good doctor always _____.
A good doctor never _____.

b. Have students complete the sentences and then compare their answers.

c. Follow up with a class discussion about what qualities make a good doctor.
Since I Was a Little Girl

FOCUS

- Present Perfect Tense: Contrast with the Present Tense
  Since Expressions

CLOSE UP

RULE: Since is used with past time phrases that describe a point in time in the past.

EXAMPLES: I've known how to ski since I was a little girl.
We've been engaged since we finished college.

GETTING READY

Contrast the simple present tense and the present perfect tense.

1. Put these cues on the board:
   - speak English
   - interested/astronomy
   - married
   - own/house
   - work/restaurant

2. Make two statements about each cue: one in the present tense and one in the present perfect tense. For example:
   - Lucy speaks English.
   - She's spoken English since she was young.
   - Lucy is interested in astronomy.
   - She's been interested in astronomy for a long time.

3. Point to each cue and call on one or more students to tell about Lucy in the same way.

INTRODUCING THE MODELS

There are two model conversations. Introduce and practice each separately. For each model:

1. Have students look at the model illustration.
2. Set the scene:
   - 1st model: “Two friends are talking.”
   - 2nd model: “A woman is talking to a young couple at a party.”
3. Present the model.
4. Full-Class Repetition.
5. Ask students if they have any questions.
   Check understanding of the word engaged in the 2nd model.
7. Choral Conversation.
8. Call on one or two pairs of students to present the dialog.
   (For additional practice, do Choral Conversation in small groups or by rows.)

Culture Note

In traditional U.S. culture, a couple who are planning to get married may announce their intentions by becoming engaged to be married. The man may also give the woman an engagement ring.
New Vocabulary
3. personal computer
4. modern art
   Picasso
6. count (v)
10. termites
12. the birds and the bees
   the facts of life

Examples

1. A. Does your sister Jennifer play the cello?
   B. Yes. She’s played the cello since she was eight years old.

2. A. Is your friend Michael a professional musician?
   B. Yes. He’s been a professional musician since he graduated from music school.

1. Exercise 1: Introduce the word cello. Call on two students to present the dialog. Then do Choral Repetition and Choral Conversation practice.
2. Exercise 2: Introduce the words musician, graduate (v), music school. Same as above.
3. Exercises 3–12: Either Full-Class Practice or Pair Practice.

Culture Notes
Exercise 4: Pablo Picasso is a famous 20th-century artist.

Exercise 11: Titanic is the true story of a large ship that sank in the North Atlantic. Most of the ship’s passengers died in the disaster.

Exercise 12: The euphemistic expression “the birds and the bees” is used in polite conversation to refer to the facts of life or where babies come from.

WORKBOOK

Pages 55–57

1. Sense or Nonsense? ★★
   a. Divide the class into four groups.
   b. Make many sets of split sentence cards with beginnings and endings of sentences. For example:

   She’s had a stomachache since... she ate a donut this morning.
   He’s liked classical music since...
   she first saw the stars at night.
   She’s been interested in astronomy since...
   he went to Mexico on vacation.
   He’s studied Spanish since... he heard his first concert.
She’s owned her own business since . . .

They’ve had blue hair since . . .

She’s been interested in photography since . . .

He’s had pain in his back since . . .

My children have stayed in bed since . . .

Her neck has been stiff since . . .

she graduated from business school.

they became rock stars.

she bought a new camera.

he worked in his garden yesterday.

they got the measles.

she was in a car accident.

b. Have students sit in a circle.

c. Tell them that when you say a number, the first student in the circle makes a change in that part of the sentence. For example:

Teacher: Two.

Student 1: Paul has wanted to study Russian history since he visited Moscow.

d. The second student keeps the first student’s sentence, but changes it based on the next number you say. For example:

Teacher: Three.

Student 2: Paul has wanted to study Russian poetry since he visited Moscow.

e. Continue this way with the rest of the students in the circle. For example:

Teacher: Four.

Student 3: Paul has wanted to study Russian poetry since he met Anna.

3. Expand the Sentence! ★★

Tell students that the object of the activity is to build a long sentence on the board, one word at a time.

a. Call on a student to write a pronoun or someone’s name on the far left side of the board. For example:

Barbara

b. Have another student come to the board and add a word. For example:

Barbara has

c. Have a third student add a third word. For example:

Barbara has been interested in modern art since she found a wonderful book about Picasso in the library in the center of her city.

d. Continue until each student in the class has had one or more turns to add a word to expand the sentence into the longest one they can think of. For example:

Barbara has been interested in modern art since she found a wonderful book about Picasso in the library in the center of her city.

4. Class Discussion: Complete the Sentences ★★

a. Write on the board the following sentence beginnings:

Since I was a child, I've known how to ________.
Since I was a child, I've liked ________.
Since I started English classes, I've ________.
Since I read about ________, I've wanted to ________.

b. Have students complete the sentences individually and then share their sentences in small groups or as a class.

5. Sentence Cues ★★

a. On separate cards, write key words that can be put together to form sentences or questions. Clip together the cards for each sentence. For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>you</th>
<th>speak</th>
<th>Spanish</th>
<th>since</th>
<th>go to Caracas</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

b. Divide the class into small groups and give a clipped set of cards to each group.

c. Have each group write a sentence based on their set of cards.

d. Have one member of each group write that group’s sentence on the board and compare everybody’s sentences.

6. Guess Who! ★★★

a. Write on the board:

I like ________.
I'm interested in ________.
I know how to ________.
I play ________.
I'm a ________.
I want to be a ________.
I have ________.

b. Have each student write three sentences about himself or herself, using some of the cues on the board. For example:

I'm interested in computers.
I play the guitar.
I have a pet bird.

c. Have students fold their papers and give them to you. Mix them up and give each student someone else’s paper.

d. Call on students to read the sentences. Then have the class guess who wrote them.

e. After the class has identified the person who wrote the statements, have students ask that person any questions they wish, using how long.
7. Key Word Role Play: At a Party ★★★
   a. Write the following on the board:

      interested in?
live?
work?
how long?

   b. Divide the class into pairs.
   c. Tell each pair that they've just met at a party. Have them create a role play, using the key expressions on the board.
   d. Call on pairs to present their role plays to the class.

8. What's Wrong? ★★★
   a. Divide the class into pairs or small groups.
   b. Write several sentences such as the following on the board or on a handout. Some of the sentences should be correct, and others incorrect. For example:

      I know them for a long time.
      He's been interested in computers since many years.
      She's played the piano since she was a child.
      They been married for fifty years.
      How long you own that car?
      I been sick since last Monday.
      You've had a backache for a week.
      How long there be problems at your company?

   c. The object of the activity is for students to identify which sentences are incorrect and then correct them.
   d. Have students compare their answers.

   Variation: Do the activity as a game with competing teams. The team that successfully completes the task in the shortest time is the winner.
Text Pages 58–59: Have You Always Taught History?

FOCUS

- Present Perfect Tense:
  Contrast with the Past Tense
  Review of Yes/No Questions

CLOSE UP

RULE: The present perfect describes an activity that began in the past and continues up to the present. The simple past describes an activity that began and ended in the past.

EXAMPLES: I've taught history for the past three years. (I continue to teach history.)
Before that, I taught geography. (I don't teach geography now.)

INTRODUCING THE MODELS

There are two model conversations. Introduce and practice each separately. For each model:
1. Have students look at the model illustration.
2. Set the scene.
   1st model: “A student is talking to his history professor.”
   2nd model: “Two people are talking about Victor.”
3. Present the model.
4. Full-Class Repetition.
5. Ask students if they have any questions.
   Check understanding of new vocabulary:
   1st model: geography
   2nd model: immigrate, engineer
7. Choral Conversation.
8. Call on one or two pairs of students to present the dialog.
   (For additional practice, do Choral Conversation in small groups or by rows.)

SIDE BY SIDE EXERCISES

Examples

1. A. Have you always liked classical music?
   B. No. I've liked classical music for the past five years. Before that, I liked jazz.

2. A. Has Carlos always been the store manager?
   B. No. He's been the store manager since last January. Before that, he was a cashier.

1. Exercise 1: Call on two students to present the dialog. Then do Choral Repetition and Choral Conversation practice.

2. Exercise 2: Introduce the expression store manager. Same as above.

3. Exercises 3–8: Either Full-Class Practice or Pair Practice.
New Vocabulary
4. astronaut
5. southern accent
   New York accent
   Georgia
7. whole milk
8. lottery

How to Say It!

Reacting to Information: In spoken English, it is common to react to new information with any of these three phrases: “Oh. I didn’t know that.” “Oh. I didn’t realize that.” “Oh. I wasn’t aware of that.”

1. Present the expressions.
2. Full-Class Repetition.
3. Ask students if they have any questions.
5. Have students practice the conversations in this lesson again, using any of these new expressions.
5. Call pairs of students to present their conversations to the class.

How About You?

1. Go over the questions before students do the activity.
2. Call on a few pairs of students to ask and answer the questions.
3. Divide the class into pairs, and have students ask and answer the questions. Remind students to use the expressions for Reacting to Information from the How to Say It! section above.

WORKBOOK

Pages 58–59

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES

1. Summarizing with the Present Perfect ★★

Have students listen as you read each of the situations below. Then call on a student to summarize what happened, using the present perfect. (There may be more than one way to summarize what happened.) For example:

Situation: Bill saw Jim this morning. He saw him again at lunch. Then he saw him again in the parking lot.
Summary: Bill has seen Jim three times today.
or
Bill has seen Jim several times/a lot today.

Situations:
- Gloria called her cousin this morning, and she called him again this afternoon.
- Robert wrote two letters to the Kendall Company last week, and he wrote them another one this morning.

We saw Mr. and Mrs. Chen at a basketball game on Tuesday night and at a concert on Thursday night.
Alan studied French in high school. He studied Spanish in college. And last year he studied Japanese.
Mrs. Phillips went to Europe in 1995. She went to Europe again in 2000.
Larry is reading a lot this year in school. He read four books last semester. And he read two more books last month.
Joe came to class late yesterday. He came to class late again today.
Julie’s aunt sent her a birthday gift this week. Her friend Eileen sent her one, too.
Veronica had a baby girl in 1998. In 2001 she had a baby boy.
Mrs. Garcia’s students did well on their history tests last semester. They did well on their tests this semester, too.

2. Find the Right Person! ★★
   a. Write the following on the board:

   For the past six months I have ________.
   For the past few years I have ________.
   I have always ________.

   b. Have students complete these sentences any way they wish and hand them in to you.
   c. Put the information on a handout in the following form:

   Find someone who . . .
   1. has been school president for the past six months.
   2. has studied piano for the past few years.
   3. has always wanted to fly an airplane.

   d. Have students circulate around the room, asking each other questions to identify the above people. For example:

   Student A: Have you ever been school president?
   Student B: Yes, I have. I've been school president for the past six months.

   e. The first student to find all the people, raise his or her hand, and identify the people is the winner of the game.

3. Same and Different: Musical Tastes ★★★
   a. Put the following on the board:

   I have ________.
   My partner has ________.
   We both have ________.

   b. Write a list of questions about students' musical tastes such as the following on the board or on a handout for students:

   What kind of music do you like?
   How long have you liked/listened to ________?
   Do you play any musical instruments?
   How long have you studied ________?

   c. Divide the class into pairs.

   d. Have students interview each other and then report to the class about the ways in which they're the same and the ways in which they're different. For example:

   I have listened to jazz since I was young.
   My partner has studied the piano for ten years.
   We both have always liked classical music.

4. Sharing Histories ★★★
   a. Write on the board:

   I've ________ since/for ________.

1. Tic Tac Question the Answer
   a. Draw a tic tac grid on the board and fill it in with short answers to questions:

   | For six years. | Two years ago. | Yes, he did. |
   | For three years. | Yes, they have. | No, he didn’t. |
   | Yes, she has. | Yes, he has. | Yes, she did. |

   b. Divide the class into teams. Give each team a mark: X or O.

   c. Have each team ask a question about the story on text page 61 for an answer in the grid. For example:
      - X Team: Has Kate worked very hard to get where she is today?
      - Yes, she has.

   d. If an answer is appropriate and is stated correctly, that team may replace the answer with its team mark. For example:
For six years. Two years ago. Yes, he did.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>For three years.</th>
<th>Yes, they have.</th>
<th>No, he didn't.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>X</td>
<td>Yes, he has.</td>
<td>Yes, she did.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

e. The first team to mark out three boxes in a straight line—either vertically, horizontally, or diagonally—wins.

2. Time Lines

a. Have students draw a time line for the two characters in the reading. Have pairs of students compare their time lines.

b. Have students then draw a time line of someone they know. Have students share their time lines with a partner. Have students ask and answer questions about each other’s time line. For example:

   - When did he/she begin that job?
   - Where did he/she live?
   - How long did he/she work there?
   - What does he/she do now?

1. Make sure students understand the questions.
2. Have students ask you the questions and take notes based on your answers.
3. Have students write their stories about you at home, using a dictionary for any new words they wish to use.
4. Have students present and discuss what they have written in pairs, small groups, or as a class.

ROLE PLAY  It’s Been a Long Time

FOCUS

• Review: Present Perfect Tense

INTRODUCING THE MODEL

1. Have students look at the model illustration.
2. Set the scene: “Two old friends have just met on the street. They haven’t seen each other in a long time.”
3. Have students listen as you present the dialog or play the audio one or more times.
4. Ask students if they have any questions. Check understanding of new vocabulary: barber, taxi driver, saxophone, Good idea, It’s been a long time.

Language Note

Good idea is a reduced form of the expression That’s a good idea.

5. Divide the class into pairs. Have students practice the dialog.
6. Call on one or two pairs of students to present the dialog.

EXPANSION ACTIVITY

Scrambled Dialog Game ★★

1. Divide the class into five teams.
2. Make five sets of the conversation from student text page 62, writing each line on a separate card.
3. Give each group one set of the cards, and have the group members reorder the conversations.
4. The first team to put the conversation in the correct order is the winner.

WORKBOOK

Pages 60–61
Reduced have & has: In spoken English, the pronunciation of the h in the auxiliaries have and has is often omitted. The reduced pronunciation of have is [ov] and of has is [az].

Focus on Listening
Practice the sentences in the left column. Say each sentence or play the audio one or more times. Have students listen carefully and repeat.

Focus on Pronunciation
Practice the sentences in the right column. Have students say each sentence and then listen carefully as you say it or play the audio. If you wish, have students continue practicing the sentences to improve their pronunciation.

Journal
Have students write their journal entries at home or in class. Encourage students to use a dictionary to look up words they would like to use. Students can share their written work with other students if appropriate. Have students discuss what they have written as a class, in pairs, or in small groups.

Expansion Activity
Category Dictation ★★
1. Have students draw two columns on a piece of paper. At the top of one column, have students write since. At the top of the other column, have them write for.
2. Dictate various time expressions and have students write them in the appropriate column. For example:
   - since she was born
   - last night
   - he saw her
   - for three years
   - the past ten minutes
   - a long time

Answer Key

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES

1. Do You Remember the Words? ★

Check students' retention of the vocabulary depicted on the opening page of Chapter 5 by doing the following activity:

a. Have students open their books to text page 51 and cover the list of vocabulary words and phrases.

b. Either call out a number and have students tell you the word or phrase, or say a word or phrase and have students tell you the number.

Variation: You can also do this activity as a game with competing teams.

2. Student-Led Dictation ★

a. Tell each student to choose any word or phrase from the chapter and look at it very carefully.

b. Have students take turns dictating their words to the class. Everybody writes down that student's word.

c. When the dictation is completed, call on different students to write each word on the board to check the spelling.

3. Letter Game ★

a. Divide the class into two teams.

b. Say: "I'm thinking of a medical care word that starts with h."

c. The first person to raise his or her hand and guess correctly [headache] wins a point for his or her team.

d. Continue with other letters of the alphabet and words.

The team that gets the most correct answers wins the game.

4. Tic Tac Occupation ★★

a. Have students draw a tic tac grid on their papers and fill in the grid with any nine occupations from the chapter.

b. Give definitions of the occupations, and tell students to cross out any word on their grids for which you have given the definition.

c. The first person to cross out three words in a straight line—either vertically, horizontally, or diagonally—wins the game.

d. Have the winner call out the words to check the accuracy.
1. Board Game ★★★

   a. On poster boards or on manila file folders, make up game boards with a pathway consisting of separate spaces. You may use any theme or design you wish.

   b. Divide the class into groups of 2 to 4 students and give each group a game board and a die, and each student something to be used as a playing piece.

   c. Give each group a pile of cards face-down with statements written on them. Some sentences should be correct, and others incorrect. For example:

      - I have known him for twenty years.
      - She's owned her own house since two years.
      - They've been interested in modern art for last year.
      - He's played the guitar since he was five years old.
      - I have known how to ride a bicycle since five years ago.
      - We have been tired when the baby was born.
      - He's been president since the past three months.
      - Before that, he has been vice-president.
      - She has always wanted to be an astronaut.
      - He hasn’t always spoken with a New York accent.
      - They have been on vacation since they won the lottery.
      - We have had a cat for last year.

   d. Each student in turn rolls the die, moves the playing piece along the game path, and after landing on a space, picks a card, reads the sentence, and says if it is correct or incorrect. If the statement is incorrect, the student must correct it. If the response is correct, the student takes an additional turn.

   e. The first student to reach the end of the pathway is the winner.

2. Question Game ★★

   a. Write the following sentence on the board:

   ```
   Michael has been interested in Japanese art since he went to Japan last year.
   ```

   b. Underline different elements of the sentence, and have students create a question based on that portion of the sentence. For example:

   ```
   Michael has been interested in Japanese art since he went to Japan last year.
   ```

   How long has Michael been interested in Japanese art?

   ```
   Michael has been interested in Japanese art since he went to Japan last year.
   ```

   What has Michael been interested in since he went to Japan last year?

   ```
   Michael has been interested in Japanese art since he went to Japan last year.
   ```

   c. Continue with other sentences.

3. Scrambled Sentences ★★

   a. Divide the class into two teams.

   b. Write individual sentences out of order on the board. Use sentences similar to the ones in the lesson on text pages 56 and 57. For example:

   ```
   she musician finished she 2000 in has music school a since professional been
   ```

   c. The first person to raise his or her hand, come to the board, and write the sentence in the correct order earns a point for that team. (She has been a professional musician since she finished music school in 2000.)
d. The team with the most points wins the scrambled sentence game.

Variation: Write the words to several sentences on separate cards. Divide the class into small groups, and have students work together to put the sentences into correct order.

4. Mystery Conversations ★★★
   a. Divide the class into pairs.
   b. Write the following on the board:

   Are you still ______?

   c. Write roles such as the following on word cards and give one to each pair of students:

   - a parent and a child
   - a teacher and a student
   - two neighbors
   - a wife and a husband
   - a boss and an employee
   - two friends
   - a nurse and a patient
   - a brother and a sister

   d. Have each pair create a short dialog that begins “Are you still ______?” The dialogs should be appropriate for the roles the students have on their cards.

   e. Have each pair present their dialog to the class. Then have the other students guess who the people are: Are they friends? Is a teacher talking to a student? For example:

   [parent–child]
   A. Are you still on the phone?
   B. No, I’m not. I haven’t been on the phone for ten minutes!

   [boss–employee]
   A. Are you still working on the report?
   B. No. I’ve already finished it.

READING THE ARTICLE
1. Have students read silently, or follow along silently as the article is read aloud by you, by one or more students, or on the audio program.
2. Ask students if they have any questions. Check understanding of new vocabulary.
3. Check students’ comprehension by asking the following questions:
   - Why are more and more companies operating “24/7”?
   - What percentage of employees work the evening and night shifts?
   - What kinds of jobs did traditional night-shift workers have?
   - Who are the new night-shift workers?
   - How have local businesses changed to serve these night-shift workers?
4. Have students discuss the questions in small groups or as a class.

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES
1. Dictate and Discuss ★★★
   a. Divide the class into pairs or small groups.
   b. Dictate sentences such as the following and then have students discuss them:
      - People work more now than they did twenty years ago.
      - Technology makes life easier.
      - The 24/7 work schedule is good for families.
      - Technology makes it possible for people to take longer vacations.
   c. Call on students to share their opinions with the rest of the class.

2. The Longest List ★★★
   a. Divide the class into several teams. Have students brainstorm the types of businesses that operate twenty-four hours a day.
   b. Have the teams share their lists with the class. The team with the longest list wins.

3. Advantages and Disadvantages ★★★
   a. Have students draw two columns on a piece of paper. At the top of one column, have students write Advantages. At the top of the other column, have them write Disadvantages. (continued)

b. Name one late-night activity—for example: late-night shopping at a supermarket, working the 11:00 to 7:00 shift, or late-night shopping on the Internet. Have students brainstorm the advantages and disadvantages of doing this at night instead of during the day. Write students’ ideas in the columns and have students copy the sentences on their papers. For example:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Late-Night Shopping at a Supermarket</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Advantages</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>There’s no traffic, and there are no parking problems.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>There’s a short check-out lane because there are few shoppers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Disadvantages</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tired drivers can make mistakes.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>There are fewer employees to help customers.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

4. Survey ★★★

Have students find out about their classmates’ preferred schedules.

a. Brainstorm with the class questions students can ask each other about their preferences. For example:

When are you most active—in the morning or at night?
Do you like to stay up late at night?
When do you do your shopping?
When do you work?

b. Have each student choose one question to ask and then conduct a survey by circulating around the room, asking the others that question.

c. For homework, have students draw up the survey results in graph form (for example, a bar graph or pie chart). In class, have students share their graphs and report their results.

5. A Perfect Work Schedule ★★★

a. For homework, have students answer the following:

In your opinion, what is a perfect work schedule? Why?

b. Have students share their writing in pairs.

AROUND THE WORLD

Unique Jobs

1. Have students read silently or follow along silently as the text is read aloud by you, by one or more students, or on the audio program.

2. Check understanding of the words coffee plantation worker, dog day-care worker, exist, reindeer herder, safari guide, subway pusher, tulip farmer, unique.

3. Bring a map to class and point out the locations referred to in the photographs.

4. Have students first work in pairs or small groups, responding to the question. Then have students tell the class what they talked about. Write any new vocabulary on the board.

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES

1. Ranking ★★

a. Ask students: “Which of these jobs would you like to have?”

b. Have students rank these jobs from the most interesting to the least interesting.

c. As a class, in pairs, or in small groups, have students compare their lists.

2. Unique Local Jobs ★★

a. Divide the class into groups. Call out a city, town, or region in your area and have students brainstorm unique jobs that can be done only in that location.

b. Have the teams share their lists with the class.

INTERVIEW

1. Have students read silently, or follow along silently as the interview is read aloud by you, by one or more students, or on the audio program.
2. Ask students if they have any questions. Check understanding of the words asleep, awake, day shift, forever, normally, notes, put to bed.

3. Check students’ comprehension by asking the following questions:
   - What is Mrs. Souza’s work schedule?
   - What is Mr. Souza’s work schedule?
   - Who helps them with the children?
   - Do their children go to school yet?
   - When do Mr. and Mrs. Souza usually see each other?
   - How do Mr. and Mrs. Souza communicate during the week?
   - What does Mr. Souza hope for in the future?

WORKBOOK Page 61 Exercise C, D

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES

1. The Kids’ Schedule ★
   The interview describes the mother’s and father’s day. Have students read the interview again and write out a typical day for the Souza children.

2. Advantages and Disadvantages ★★★
   a. Have students draw two columns on a piece of paper. At the top of one column, have students write Advantages. At the top of the other column, have them write Disadvantages.
   b. Have students brainstorm the advantages and disadvantages of the Souzas’ work schedules. Write students’ ideas in the columns and have students copy the sentences on their papers. For example:

    Advantages
   They don’t have to spend money on child care.
   The grandmother is able to spend time with her grandchildren.

    Disadvantages
   Mr. and Mrs. Souza don’t get to see each other.
   It’s difficult for the parents because they never have time off to relax.

3. Student Interviews ★★★
   a. If possible, have students conduct an interview with parents of young children they know. Have students brainstorm the kinds of questions they want to ask.
   b. Have students report their findings to the class and write up a report for homework.

   FACT FILE Vacation Time in Different Countries

1. Before reading the Fact File, show the class a world map. Have students identify the locations of the following place names:

   | Australia | Japan  |
   | Denmark  | Sweden |
   | Germany  | the United States |

2. Have students rank the countries according to which ones they think would have the longest vacations. Write students’ ideas on the board. Then have students read the table on text page 67 to check their predictions.

3. Read the table aloud as the class follows along. Ask students: “Is this list different from your list? How is your list different?”

WORKBOOK Page 61a Exercise B

EXPANSION ACTIVITY

Student Investigation ★★★
1. Have students conduct interviews with people from the previous generation. Have students ask:
   - How much vacation time did you get thirty years ago?
   - Do you think people today get more or less vacation time?
   - How is vacation time different now?

2. Have students compare their notes. Ask: “Are people now getting more vacation time or less vacation time than in the past? How was vacation time different thirty years ago?”
LISTENING  Office Voice Mail

1. Check understanding of the expression voice mail.

2. Set the scene: “Sam works for Ms. Rivera. These are phone messages they left for each other.”

LISTENING SCRIPT

Listen to the voice-mail messages between Gloria Rivera and her office assistant, Sam. Has Sam done the things on Ms. Rivera’s list? Check Yes or No.

You have one message. Tuesday, 8:15 A.M.

Hello, Sam? This is Ms. Rivera. I’ll be out of the office all day today. I’m not feeling well. Here’s a list of things you’ll need to do while I’m not here. First, please write a note to Mrs. Wilson and tell her I’m sick. Then, please call Mr. Chen and change the time of our appointment. Also, send an e-mail to everybody in the office, and tell them about next week’s meeting. Don’t forget to speak to the custodian about my broken desk lamp. I hope he can fix it. Hmm. Let’s see. I know there are a few more things. Oh, yes. Please make a list of all the employees and give it to Ms. Baxter. She asked me for the list last week. Okay, Sam. I think that’s everything. Oh . . . one more thing. Please take the package on my desk to the post office if you have time. And that’s it. Thanks, Sam. I’ll see you tomorrow morning.

You have reached the voice mailbox of Gloria Rivera. Please leave a message after the tone.

Ms. Rivera? This is Sam. I’m sorry you aren’t feeling well. I hope you feel better tomorrow. I’m calling to tell you what I’ve done today, and what I haven’t done yet. It’s been very busy here, so I haven’t had time to do everything. I wrote a note to Mrs. Wilson. I called Mr. Chen and changed the time of your appointment. I also sent the e-mail about next week’s meeting. I haven’t spoken to the custodian. He’s been sick all week. I made a list of all the employees, but I haven’t given it to Ms. Baxter yet. I’ll give it to her early tomorrow morning. Finally, I haven’t taken the package to the post office yet. I haven’t had time. I’m going to take it to the post office on my way home.

Again, I hope you’re feeling better. I’ll see you in the morning.

      - People use the present perfect to talk about things that began in the past and continue until now. (True)
      - It’s correct to say in English “I worked here for the last two years.” (False)

   WORKBOOK Pages 61c–d Exercise H
EXPANSION ACTIVITY

What’s Wrong? ★★★

1. Divide the class into pairs or small groups.

2. Write several sentences such as the following on the board or on a handout. Some of the sentences should be correct, and others incorrect. For example:
   - I live here since 2001.
   - You’ve been here since last Sunday.
   - We tried that recipe last weekend.
   - She’s never saw a rainbow.
   - He’s read that book.
   - I drove a taxi for three years, and I still do.
   - She knows us since 2000.
   - They’ve went to Paris five times.
   - He teaches history for several years.

3. The object of the activity is for students to identify which sentences are incorrect and then correct them. For each incorrect statement, have students identify which rule on text page 68 it breaks.

4. Have students compare their answers.
   Variation: Do the activity as a game with competing teams. The team that successfully completes the task in the shortest time is the winner.

GLOBAL EXCHANGE

1. Set the scene: “Alex32 is writing to a keypal.”

2. Have students read silently or follow along silently as the message is read aloud by you, by one or more students, or on the audio program.

3. Ask students if they have any questions. Check understanding of the expression in a while.

4. Options for additional practice:
   - Have students write a response to Alex32 and share their writing in pairs
   - Have students correspond with a keypal on the Internet and then share their experience with the class.

WHAT ARE THEY SAYING?

FOCUS

- Accomplishing Tasks

Have students talk about the people and the situation, and then create role plays based on the scene. Students may refer back to previous lessons as a resource, but they should not simply reuse specific conversations.

Note: You may want to assign this exercise as written homework, having students prepare their role plays, practice them the next day with other students, and then present them to the class.
